Paper-based COVID-19 check-in systems can be time consuming. They also run the risk of recording inaccurate contact details or accidentally leaking visitors' information.

On the other hand, SimplyCast's QR code-based COVID-19 patron check-in system ensures your customers can check themselves in to a location by scanning a QR code and filling out a short form. You can view their check-in statuses in real time. Since the information is being recorded digitally, the margin for human error is reduced to almost zero.

Your customers' information is timestamped and stored in a database that comes with the solution. So, if there is a potential COVID-19 exposure, you can instantly fetch the information and issue a mass alert!
